

Kirsten Howe, Esq.

Kirsten focuses on estate planning, elder law, and closely related practice areas. She began her career as a business planning attorney. Many of her business clients were so impressed with her work that they asked her to handle all of their planning needs, including their estate plans. Over time, she realized that she enjoyed the personal nature of estate planning and elder law, and decided to focus on these areas.

She is dedicated to designing and implementing customized plans, and establishing close, long-lasting relationships with her clients.

Kirsten was admitted to the California bar in 1987 and has had her own practice in Walnut Creek since 1997. She earned her J.D. cum laude at the University of California, Hastings College of the Law, where she was a member of the Thurston Society and Managing Editor of The Hastings Law Journal. She earned her Bachelor of Science degree in 1980 from the University of Michigan.

Kirsten is a member of the Business Law section and Trusts and Estates section of the California State Bar; the Business Law and Corporate Counsel section of the Contra Costa County Bar Association; and the Conservatorship/Guardianship, Probate and Trust section of the Contra Costa County Bar Association. She is on the Board of Directors of the Estate Planning Council of Diablo Valley.
